GOVERNOR FORAKER'S ARRIVAL.

The Republicans of Springfield Tended Their Gallant Standard-Bearer a Royal Reception. The Governor's Speech.

A great crowd of republicans gathered at the Bee Line station this morning to greet Governor Foraker on his arrival with the escort committee from Dayton.

The wide walk along the railroad side of the Arcade was literally lined with people, and it was impossible to make one's way through the crowd.

The Buckeye club, as the general reception committee of the day, was drawn up in line facing the Bee Line track, and the cry was taken up and repeated by the crowd.

As the train rolled across Market street, the cheering and shouting of the crowd greeted the gallant governor and the battery continued the firing until the governor's salute was completed.

The crowd surged toward the car which contained the committee and the governor, and as the latter appeared on the platform, sent up a mighty cheer of welcome.

Governor Foraker, unencumbered and bowed to the crowd and then, escorted by the committee and headed by the Big Six, marched through the west entrance of the Arcade into the hotel ring.

An immense concourse of people gathered in the Arcade, completely filling it, and loud and persistent calls for Foraker made the hotel ring.

Presently the governor, accompanied by General Bushnell, General Keifer, Hon. R. F. Hayward and other prominent republicans, stepped out of the car and was greeted by Mr. T. M. Gugenheim and that same year he took his first step in politics and was elected governor of the Third ward.

When the cheering ceased he spoke briefly as follows: My Fellow Citizens: I have not come out to make a speech, but only to thank you for this most cordial and complimentary reception.

I realize that while this is a most unexpected compliment to me, you are honoring the party which I represent, and as the representative of that party, I thank you.

We shall go to the polls next Tuesday, and our presence there will be evinced by one of the most triumphant victories ever recorded in the political history of the state of Ohio.

Governor Foraker bowed and retired, the crowd cheered, and the Big Six band blended sweet music with the enthusiastic shouts for Ohio's gallant governor.

ENTHUSIASTIC BUCKEYES.

A Fine Meeting Held at the Club Rooms Last Night—Arrangements Made for Today's Demonstration—A Large List of New Members.

One of the most enthusiastic and largely attended meetings in the history of the Buckeye club was held last Tuesday evening at the club room in the Buckingham block.

The room was filled during the entire evening with enthusiastic republicans, and if the feeling of those in attendance at the meeting last night is a fair criterion of that of republicans throughout the state.

Joseph Benson Foraker will, on next Tuesday, receive a larger majority than any Ohio governor has received since old John Broth defeated Clement L. Vallandigham in 1863 by 101,000.

President Asa Hatch was in the chair, and as Secretary J. F. Snyder was not present, the meeting was called to order by Mr. P. M. Cartwell, who was chosen secretary.

The reading of the minutes of the previous meeting was dispensed with. At the suggestion of Grand Marshal Holloway, who, on account of other duties, is unable to take command of the club today, Mr. R. F. K. Jennings was selected to command the club during the present demonstration.

Mr. Jennings appointed as his assistants Messrs. B. F. Weigel, Wesley McDonald and Robert Dickson.

A committee of twenty-two was, on motion, appointed to act as ushers at the meeting this evening. The committee was named by the president, as follows: Theodore Stetson, David Jackson, Marion Moore, John Stettin, John Hagerman, Joe Fink, J. H. Brennan, Scott Hatfield, R. W. Dickson, A. J. Baker, John C. Parker, W. W. Wistinger, John W. Harris, C. R. Harrington.

Mr. Ed. Biedenour was chosen chairman of the committee—or, in other words, chief usher. The committee is requested to be at the pavilion promptly at 6:30 this evening.

Judge Young and Mr. H. L. Preston were chosen a committee to solicit orders among those present for hats, which the club had pledged itself to take. They secured six orders.

Mr. H. L. Preston reported the constitution had been printed, and that the bill was $15. The bill was allowed and ordered paid, and the committee was discharged.

The following persons applied for admission to membership in the club, and on motion of Judge Young the rules were suspended and they were unanimously elected: James G. Rodgers, R. D. Hulick, Samuel Dodes, R. D. Hulick, G. P. St. John, G. P. St. John, H. W. W. Wilson, Harry Fokert, William Woods, H. C. Frank, Harry Falls, J. C. Fink, John C. Parker, W. W. Wistinger, John W. Harris, C. R. Harrington.

On behalf of the Times, Mr. Preston presented the club with a large portrait of Gen. Robert P. Kennedy, and the club gave the donors a vote of thanks.

On motion, it was decided to hold a meeting in the club room on Saturday night, and the committee on speakers was instructed to secure speakers for the occasion.

The meeting wound up with a ringing speech by Hon. George C. Hawley.

OUR COUNTY CHAIRMAN.

Brief Biographical Sketch of Mr. R. F. Hayward, the Leader of Clark County's Republicans. How He Has Done for the Party.

To the energy, pluck and perseverance of Mr. R. F. Hayward, chairman of the Clark county republican central committee, a large measure of the credit of this day's magnificent demonstration in honor of Governor Foraker, is due.

Without detracting in the least from the valuable services of the many loyal republicans who have contributed to the success of the great meeting, it can be truthfully said that Chairman Hayward has been the guiding spirit of the entire enterprise and has been successful in his endeavors to insure its success.

That he has achieved success and that today's meetings are one of the greatest, grandest and most magnificent demonstrations held during this campaign in Ohio there can be no the slightest doubt.

As a matter of fact, the republican meetings in Springfield during the present campaign have been a series of ever increasing successes.

The great ball of republican enthusiasm is day by day growing greater in size and momentum and on next Tuesday it will sweep over and flatten out all opposition—and Clark county will have been redeemed.

The citizens of Springfield and Clark county have been exceptionally fortunate in this campaign in being afforded opportunities to hear Hatterworth, Sherman, Noyes, McKinley, Gibson, and today, our own brilliant governor, Foraker.

To chairman Hayward and the remarkably efficient campaign committee which he has drawn around him must be the thanks of Clark county republicans be extended for these rare treats.

Night and day for weeks he has labored in the republican cause and the fruits of that labor will be evermore dearly manifest next Tuesday night than they are today.

Mr. Hayward was born in this county thirty-six years ago, on the 12th of September. His birth place was two miles east of this city on the Charleston pike, and there he resided until he was 17 years old.

His father, Mr. David Hayward, whom many of the older residents of Springfield well knew, was county commissioner and a trustee of Springfield township for many years.

At the age of 17, "Foss," as the subject of this sketch is familiarly called by his intimate friends, came to this city and accepted a position with the Champion Western Clothing Company.

At the age of 19 he went into business for himself, opening a hat and gents' furnishing store in a building on Main street, which has since given way to the more pretentious Stieritz building.

On the 24th of October, 1872, he married Miss Florence Phillips, a sister of Mr. Jason W. Phillips. In 1873, having closed out his own establishment, he took a position with Mr. T. M. Gugenheim and that same year he took his first step in politics and was elected governor of the Third ward.

Ever since that time Mr. Hayward has been a prominent figure in local politics. In the spring of 1879 he was given the republican nomination for marshal, and his personal popularity and careful, systematic work, secured his election when the remainder of the republican city ticket was defeated.

He was nominated by acclamation for the same office in 1881, and that year the entire ticket was elected.

Running for marshal in 1883 he was for the second time the only republican on the ticket that came out of the fight victorious.

Since 1883 Mr. Hayward has been associated with Mr. James Foley in the real estate business, and there are few more successful men in that line.

For the past three years Mr. Hayward has been a member of the republican state central committee, and is now vice-chairman of that body.

His political acumen and ability as an organizer are recognized all over the state, and these qualities, together with his strong, aggressive republicanism have carried him rapidly into prominence among the politicians of Ohio.

He has been a member of the county committee four years, this being his second successive year. His conduct of the campaign this fall has been brilliant and aggressive, and the campaign has been marked by a vim and vigor seldom aroused in any but presidential years.

The grand demonstration today in honor of Governor Foraker presages a brilliant victory for Clark county republicans next Tuesday, but whether victory or defeat perches on republican banners Chairman Hayward has made a record this campaign of which he may well feel proud.

ENTHUSIASM AT HARMONY. An Excellent Republican Meeting Addressed by J. F. McGraw, Esq., and Judge Miller.

A rattling republican meeting was held at Harmony last Tuesday evening, and the interest manifested indicates that the republicans of the township will be heard from next Tuesday.

Mr. James Boyd, member of the county central committee from that precinct, presided at the meeting, which was addressed by J. F. McGraw, esq., and Judge John C. Miller.

Mr. McGraw was the first speaker, and in a speech occupying a little over an hour in delivery discussed the Ohio finances, the southern question as it relates to state sovereignty, and election frauds.

The speech was heartily received by the large audience. Judge Miller followed in a fine speech, touching the leading political issues of the day and enlivening his audience by his eloquent rebuke of the Ohio finances.

The meeting was in all respects an admirable one.

THE DECORATIONS.

They Are General and Quite Beautiful. The City Decked With Flags and Bunting.

The decorations around the ally and on the line of march are quite profuse and are admired by all who see them. In the business part of the city everything is covered with flags and bunting.

Almost every business house is decked with a flag. Several large flags are strung across the streets, and at the station headed the club led by the delegation, including many who came with the club, numbered fully five hundred strong, and made the most magnificent display of the occasion.

THE REPUBLIC WELCOMES GOVERNOR FORAKER

Along the residence streets which are on the line of march the flags are numerous and are prettily arranged. One would think that all the city was republican and that no democrats lived here.

The speaker's stand in the big tent is nicely decked with bunting, flags and pictures of Washington, Grant, Garfield and Foraker in the center with his name hanging in immortal letters. The governor can be seen from every part of the tent and the view of Ohio's governor, surrounded by the gaily decked stand and Springfield republicans and its beautiful ladies, will indeed be pretty.

The decorations are a success, dropped out of the tent and the view of Ohio's governor, surrounded by the gaily decked stand and Springfield republicans and its beautiful ladies, will indeed be pretty.

THE GREAT TENT.

The Canvas Amphitheater in Position. Its Interior.

"What an audience we could pull with our circus if council would allow us to put our tent here," sighed Dr. W. S. Freeman, of the Miller, Howe & Freeman circus, as he looked at the canvas amphitheater in position.

The People of Clark County Turn Out En Masse to Welcome Governor Foraker.

The city is fairly overflowing with people from all parts of this and adjoining counties who have come to greet the gallant and brilliant standard-bearer of the republicans of Ohio.

Clark county has done especially well, and the great delegations that are here from every township in the county are most significant, as they indicate that the republicans of Clark are fully alive to the situation. They will stand firmly by the principles of the party next Tuesday and will everlastingly bury the opposition under an unprecedented fall of snowy ballots! Hurrah for Clark county!

THE PROCESSION.

One of the Most Impressive Pageants Ever Seen in the City.

At the hour of going to press the great procession is moving over the route hitherto laid out, amidst the greatest possible enthusiasm. The streets are almost impassable with people and it is as much as the police can do to make a passage way in the throng for the pageant.

The procession is a vast, magnificent column of about 3,000 men, gay with banners and resonant with music. The actual marching order is as follows: Grand Marshal J. H. Arbogast and aids, Col. David King, Col. James E. Stewart, Major W. T. Stillwell, Capt. S. A. Todd, Lieut. S. A. Morrow, Col. D. C. Putnam, J. W. Phillips, Dr. H. Whiteley, Dr. W. W. Hall, Rev. F. G. Mitchell, Col. Haines of Eton, Robert K. Hunt of German township, Lieut. Chas. Ogden, Col. George Smith, Jasper Bodkin, Wm. Rockel, J. L. Kidder, Union military band, Cincinnati—Charles Voigt, director.

Lincoln club, Cincinnati. Mechanicsburg club. Urbana club. Washington C. H. Kid band—Professor Whipple, director. Washington C. H. club, Captain Frank Fuertman.

Foreman's band. Buckeye club, 300 men. Big Six band. Co. A Flieg Hat, 150 men, J. S. Miles, captain.

Co. D, 100 men, Will Stout, captain. Co. B, 232 men, James A. Dicus, commander. Co. C, 100 men, O. N. Bartholomew, commander.

Eureka Band. Co. F, 150 men, Wm. Robinson, commander. Honley's Drum Corps. Nelson's College Club. Cedar Band.

Wittenberg College Club. Carriages containing Governor Foraker and other distinguished gentlemen. Colonel White and staff. Cavalry, 500 strong.

First Division. Colonel Putnam, Chief of Staff. Second Division or Cavalry. Captain Perry Stewart, commanding Third Division.

Fourth Division of Cavalry. J. L. Kidder, Commander of Fifth Division. Little Booms. Fragmentary Ideas Picked Up in the Great Crush.

The crowd was immense. How it hurts the democrats. It was a gigantic out-pouring. Foraker will succeed himself. President Foraker would sound well. Many ladies came with all the delegations.

Meta-Foraker speaking, it was a dandy. The cannons boomed when the train pulled in. Nobody remembers having seen Charley Constantine today.

The Republic office sports the finest lunary in town today. Springfield republicans do nothing by halves.—J. R. Foraker.

The biggest tent in the world on Market square—A Four-acre tent. The kid band of Washington is an excellent musical organization.

It is a Springfield demonstration, rather than a political one. Governor Foraker looks a little tired, but he will make Powell more so. The city was given over to the day. Nothing else was going on.

The crowds suggested circus day and the big tent added to the delusion. It is now universally called "Foraker day." The term was an invention of the Continued on Fourth Page.

JEFF DAVIS DYING.

The Excitement at Macon Too Much for His Disease Heart—His "End Expected at Any Moment."

Jenny Lind, the Swedish Nightingale, is Dead—O'Brien Removed From Cork to Tullamore, Fifty Miles From Dublin.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—A Macon, Ga., special to the Herald says: There are considerable doubts as to whether Mr. Jefferson Davis will return to his home at Beauvoir, Miss., alive. His condition, to say the least, is extremely precarious.

For several years he has been troubled with a serious affection of the heart. The excitement of last week served only to aggravate his ailment. Since last Saturday he has been confined to his bed. The wound he received in the Mexican war is troubling him considerably. The end is expected at any moment.

MACON, Ga., Nov. 2.—The report about Jeff Davis is not true. He is in his usual health.

NO WRIT OF ERROR. The Illinois Law, Under Which the Anarchists Were Convicted, Decided Constitutional.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The writ of error was denied in the case of all the prisoners in the anarchist case. The Illinois law was decided constitutional.

The decision of the supreme court upon petition for a writ of error in the case of the Chicago anarchists was announced this afternoon, by Chief Justice Waite, in a long and carefully prepared opinion, which occupied thirty-five minutes in reading.

The court holds, in brief: First—That the first ten amendments to the constitution are limitations upon federal and not upon state action.

Second—That the jury law of Illinois is upon its face valid and constitutional.

Third—That it does not appear in the record that upon the evidence at the trial the court should have declared the juror Sanford as incompetent.

Fourth—That the objection to the admission of Johann Most's letter and the cross examination of Spies, which counsel for the prisoners maintained virtually compelled them to testify against themselves was not objected to in the trial court, and that, therefore, no foundation was laid for the exercise of this court's jurisdiction.

Fifth—That the questions raised by General Butler in the cases of Spies and Fielden, upon the basis of their foreign nationality, were neither raised nor decided in the state courts, and therefore cannot be considered here. The writ is therefore denied.

AT CHICAGO. CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—The news of the denial of the writ of error was sent to the prisoners at once. Spies said: "I have nothing to say." None of the prisoners said anything. All is peaceful and no trouble is apprehended.

THE ANARCHISTS. State's Attorney Walker Would Not Sign a Petition for Clemency.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—"Would you sign a petition for a commutation of Fielden's sentence?" was asked of Assistant State's Attorney Walker.

"I feel kinder toward Fielden and Schwab than I do towards the others because of their most desecrated of the trial, but I do not see how we can discriminate between the guilt of any of those in the conspiracy. No, I would not care to sign any petition for any of them."

There was an unusual number of policemen in citizen's dress and detectives about the criminal court building, but Captain Schacht said there was no significance in it, and that they are there because they have cases pending before the grand jury.

At the East Chicago avenue police court cases are commonly continued for ten days when continuances are asked for. This morning the cases were continued for nine days only.

LIKE AN ORDINARY CRIMINAL. E. L. Harper Spends His First Night in a Common Cell.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 2.—Shortly after 1 o'clock this morning, E. L. Harper, of the late Fidelity bank, went for the first time into an ordinary cell in the Hamilton county jail and spent the night there like an ordinary criminal. He accepted his lot without complaint, and said: "I was willing to go into a cell or a dungeon, as the government should choose. There are rumors that the government officers became fearful that he would escape from the Dayton jail, and that he was brought here for greater security." He was formally arraigned upon his indictment in the United States court this morning.

COWHIDE THE MAYOR. A Farmer's Way of Getting Even With a Man Who Broke a Promise.

FR. MOTT, Kan., Nov. 2.—Francis Tiersman, mayor of this city, was publicly whipped yesterday by B. F. Williams, an old man, because of a quarrel over a farm. Williams was put to considerable expense perfecting the title to the farm, and Tiersman refused to reimburse him. This so worked on Williams' young wife that she committed suicide. Yesterday Williams renewed his request, and when Tiersman started to leave the old man drew a rawhide and struck the mayor several times on the face and neck.

O'BRIEN TAKEN TO DUBLIN. CORK, Nov. 2.—Mr. O'Brien and Mr. Mandeville were quietly removed from the jail here at 5 o'clock this morning and taken away in a special train. It is supposed that they are to be placed in prison in Dublin. News of the removal was not known to the police of Cork until 10 o'clock. It caused tremendous excitement.

AT TULLAMORE. DUBLIN, Nov. 2.—Mr. O'Brien has been lodged in jail at Tullamore, fifty miles from Dublin.

"Blinky" Morgan, the Fur Robber, to Hang. ST. LOUIS, Nov. 2.—John Lindsay, chief of the fire department, says regarding the explosion on 14th street, yesterday, that it was not caused by either gas or gasoline. Neither of these could have demolished the building, and it was either dynamite, gun powder or glass powder that was exploded.
